Welcome students...

On behalf of the entire community, I am delighted that you are here. You honor us by choosing Emory as your destination. Our vision statement, crafted through a collaborative effort across the University, says most clearly who we are and what we want for you as part of this community. The vision statement appears in its entirety in the Policies section of this handbook; in this space, allow me to highlight some of the statement’s tenets. We envision Emory to be:

- the first choice of brilliant and committed students such as you;
- known broadly, both within and outside academic circles;
- admired for setting standards;
- blending expertly a focus on teaching and research excelling at discovery, generating wisdom, and nurturing creativity;
- forging strong interdisciplinary programs that promote personal discovery and growth beyond self and build on our heritage of engaging knowledge and fostering faith;
- openness and diversity of thought, experience, and culture, instilling integrity and honor and actively debating principles.

You are now part of this adventure of learning, spirit, integrity, energy, and accomplishment. Emory is an exciting place to be, and I challenge you to participate wholeheartedly. Meet new friends among the bounty of peers, professors, and staff. Discover mentors among them. Stretch yourself academically. Involve yourself in student organizations, government, publications, athletics, religious life, music, theater, community volunteerism—the list continues.

My colleagues and I look forward to teaching you and learning from you while you are here. I hope that you will be an enthusiastic member of the Emory family, both as a student and later as a graduate, for many years to come!

Warmly,

JAMES W. WAGNER, PH.D.
PRESIDENT
Dear Emory students,

As a residential liberal arts research university, Emory will challenge and support you in living what you learn and learning what you live. Your experiences will transform you by blurring the lines between in-class and out-of-class learning.

As you will see from this handbook, the Division of Campus Life serves as the catalyst for advancing your Emory education into action. Campus Life pursues this application of your learning through hundreds of student-run organizations and a great range of public service and leadership opportunities. Our residence halls, fraternities and sororities, and athletic and recreational programs foster a caring and interconnected community that provides a range of experiences to assist you with social, career, and intellectual advancement.

This year we look forward to launching a number of new programs and initiatives, including the Center for Student Leadership & Community Engagement and Center for Diversity & Inclusion. These centers will partner with Residence Life, Student Conduct, Health Promotion, and the Barkley Forum to better address our community needs. Additionally, the Center for Women has joined Campus Life and will further enhance the Division’s polycultural and social justice education initiatives. After revitalizing our dining experience last year, we look forward to continuing to offer great service, fresh ingredients, and healthy food options. Further, Student Health & Counseling Services offers a holistic approach to health, working to build a healthier student body, mind, and spirit. Our exemplary scholar athletes return to competition after another stellar year. The Career Center remains a leading difference maker for our students, and our university center, residence halls, bookstore, and other facilities continue to offer unique environments that bring together our academic community for intellectual and social endeavors.

The possibilities in this community are endless, and we look forward to supporting you in achieving your dreams. On behalf of the Campus Life staff, we wish you all the best as you begin a new academic year, and we hope this handbook serves you well!

Warm regards,

AJAY NAIR, PH.D.
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT AND DEAN OF CAMPUS LIFE
Vision

Emory University’s Division of Campus Life, a community recognized internationally for advancing education into action and delivering world-class programs and services, promotes a healthy and sustainable environment where students live what they learn and learn what they live for self and society. The Division of Campus Life catalyzes a distinctive, caring, inquiry-driven, ethically engaged, polycultural, and socially just community of students, faculty, staff, alumni, families, and visitors that imagine and lead positive transformation in the world.

Mission

Emory University’s Division of Campus Life cultivates a welcoming and dynamic community that is committed to modeling and teaching holistic well being, ethical leadership, civic engagement, cultural humility, and global citizenship by providing a supportive and responsive foundation for an evolving campus community to develop skills necessary for lifelong success and positive transformation in the world.

There are over 400 organizations that are officially recognized by the Emory Student Government Association!

Get involved

Staff members in the Office of Student Leadership & Service on the third floor of the DUC are happy to meet with students in order to help identify organizations that may interest them.

Students may also contact the Student Government Association office at 727.6179 or stop by the Eagle’s Landing.

You can now access “COMMUNITY,” an online, searchable database of all chartered organizations and officer contact information by visiting www.osls.emory.edu.

Leadership Emory is for everyone

Leadership Emory is an initiative developed by the Division of Campus Life to help unify all leadership development at Emory. Our goal is that by the time every Emory student receives a diploma, he or she: will have grown to embody the Five Core Tenets, will value his or her own civic engagement, and will understand that leadership is a lifelong process, whether it is accompanied by an official title or not. Visit lead.emory.edu.

Mission:

Leadership Emory unites the Emory Community in teaching common elements of leadership that emphasize the important link between ethical leadership and civic engagement.

Vision:

All Emory students will embody the Five Core Tenets of Leadership at Emory, value their own civic engagement, and understand that leadership is a lifelong process.
The following OSLS-advised organizations can be found in Eagle’s Landing, which is located on the second floor of Dobbs University Center (DUC).

Marion Luther Brittain Award

The Division of Campus Life is honored to sponsor one of the University’s highest tribute: the Marion Luther Brittain Award. The Marion Luther Brittain Award is considered Emory’s highest honor and is given to a member of the graduating class in recognition of service to the University performed without expectation of reward or recognition. The Award was established in 1942 through a bequest from alumnus M.L. Brittain, former president of the Georgia Institute of Technology.

Lucius Lamar McMullan Award

The Lucius Lamar McMullan Award is presented by Emory College to a graduating senior who exhibits outstanding citizenship, exceptional leadership, and potential for service to the community, the nation, and the world. This Award was endowed by Emory alumnus William L. Matheson in honor of his uncle, with the intentions of allowing a student an opportunity to do something he or she would not otherwise be able to do.

Academic Divisions

EMORY COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES
Administrative Office: 300 White Hall, 727.6069

Emory College of Arts and Sciences is the oldest division of the university. It attracts students who appreciate the personal engagement and teaching of a liberal arts college along with the original scholarship and cutting-edge resources of a major research university. It offers BA and BS degrees, and joint BA/MA, BS/MS degrees may be pursued in some departments.

OXFORD COLLEGE
Administrative Office: Easy Admission Building, 770.784.8888

Oxford College provides an intensive liberal arts program at the university’s original campus, 38 miles east of Atlanta. Between 900-1000 students a year choose Oxford for their first two years of undergraduate study. After the sophomore year, Oxford students become juniors in Emory College or apply for admission to the Goizueta Business School or Woodruff School of Nursing.

LANEY GRADUATE SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES
Administrative Office: 209 Administration Building, 727.6028

The Graduate School offers more than 40 doctoral programs, plus terminal master’s degrees, diplomas, and certificate programs. Students pursue studies across the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, business, public health, and nursing. Centers of excellence include the Graduate Division of Religion and a joint program in biomedical engineering with Georgia Institute of Technology.

ROBERTO C. GOIZUETA BUSINESS SCHOOL
BBA Administrative Office: 320 Goizueta Business School, 727.8106

Programs at the Goizueta Business School focus on developing principled business leaders who create value for communities. Goizueta students benefit from the school’s strong ties to both the national and international business communities. The school offers the BBA, the MBA in several formats, a PhD program (through the Graduate School) and non-degree executive education.

SCHOOL OF LAW
Administrative Office: Gambrell Hall, 1st Floor, 727.6816

Law students at Emory pursue their studies with a global, service-oriented approach. The school’s centers of excellence include Law and Religion, International Law, Feminist Jurisprudence, Legal Theory, the new Center for Transactional Law and Practice, and the recently opened International Humanitarian Law Clinic. Students may pursue the JD, the LLM, and numerous joint degree programs.
SCHOOL OF MEDICINE
Administrative Office: 453 School of Medicine Building, 727.5640

The School of Medicine offers an innovative curriculum developed for the state-of-the-art James B. Williams Medical Education Building that opened in 2007. In addition to the MD degree, the school offers several joint degree and allied health programs. The MD/MPH program builds on a collaborative relationship between Emory and leading health institutions in the Atlanta area.

NEL HODGSON WOODRUFF SCHOOL OF NURSING
Administrative Office: 1520 Clifton Rd., Room P10, 727.7980

The Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing offers baccalaureate and master’s degrees and, through the Graduate School, a doctoral program. The school has developed accelerated programs to help address the nation’s nursing shortage and offers a variety of clinical practice experience, including international opportunities.

CANDLER SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY
Administrative Office: 524 Theology Building, 727.6324

One of 13 United Methodist Church seminaries, Candler has a diverse student body that represents more than 50 denominations. Pitts Theology Library is the second largest of its kind in the country. Candler students can pursue master’s and doctoral degrees, and ongoing programs with the business and law schools.

ROLLINS SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH
Administrative Office: Grace Crum Rollins Building, 727.5481

The Rollins School of Public Health focuses on behavioral sciences and health education, biostatistics, environmental and occupational health, epidemiology, global health, and health policy and management. RSPH offers master’s and doctoral studies, and dual degrees in conjunction with other divisions on campus.
Campus Life Leadership

You are encouraged to become acquainted with Campus Life staff and the roles they serve, and take full advantage of the many opportunities their efforts represent. Staff members strive to promote community at Emory as expressed in the talents, values, and achievements of individual students. Campus Life staff members are as available and valuable as you permit them to be; they want to help make your time at Emory a meaningful one.

The Barkley Forum ("The BF") is Emory University's nationally recognized, award-winning debate team and community service organization. Over fifty Emory students participate in the program every year in one of three programs: competitive public policy debate, community service programs, and campus engagement programs.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE COMPETITION

Emory debaters have won over 30 individual and team national championships. Public policy debate is inquiry driven and research based. The Barkley Forum regularly travels 20 to 25 teams annually to regional and national championships coached by a nationally recognized coaching staff. Planning, research, and preparation for each debate season goes on throughout the spring and summer months.

COMMUNITY SERVICE PROGRAMS

Through the Atlanta Debate League, the Barkley Forum promotes debate education opportunities for Atlanta’s youth. The program teaches students fundamentals of speech and debate and hosts a number of debate tournaments throughout metro Atlanta. You can learn more about the Atlanta Urban Debate league at www.Atlantadebate.org.

CAMPUS ENGAGEMENT PROGRAMS

The Barkley Forum sponsors programs on campus. The Goodyear Wade Debates feature monthly debates on controversial issues. The Emory Wheel regularly features members of the Barkley Forum, and the Dooley Debates feature various student organizations debating about featured issues in a public forum.

Contact the Barkley Forum office and one of our professional staff will meet with you to discuss your interests and talk with you about Emory Debate. (DUC E233; 727.6189; http://emory.edu/BF)
CENTER FOR WOMEN

The Center for Women at Emory (CWE) promotes access, equity, inclusion, and learning around issues related to gender. Founded in 1992, the CWE currently fulfills its mission enterprise-wide by concentrating on three overlapping themes: gender-related education, leadership development, and institutional transformation. We focus on issues that disproportionately affect women, such as sexual assault and career advancement in the sciences, but we also examine the construction of gender by, for example, exploring topics such as masculinity, transgender identities, and sexuality. We celebrate women leaders and promote their development, but we also aim to develop all individuals, especially men, as leaders in the fight for gender equality. We are keenly interested in gender’s intersection with other aspects of diversity and with connecting academic work to real-world problems and solutions.

Some of the Center for Women’s key programs and initiatives include:

- Feminists in Action, a feminist student organization for all genders
- Emory Women in Business, a student organization
- The Vagina Monologues play
- Men Stopping Violence course and internship
- I Am Women: Leadership Development Initiative
- Women's History Month
- Unsung Heroines Awards Program
- Mary Lynn Morgan Annual Lecture on Women and Health
- Women's Dissertation Group

The Office is located in Cox Hall, 3rd floor. You can contact the office by calling 727.2031 or e-mailing cwe@emory.edu. Visit us online at www.womenscenter.emory.edu.
The Office of International Student Life (OISL) is designed to help connect international students to meaningful campus life opportunities, provide intentional events and programs to highlight the diversity of nationalities and cultures at Emory, and provide opportunities for all Emory students to connect in a meaningful way.

Signature programs include the weekly International Coffee Hour, Conversation Partners, International Student Debate Program, and the Emory World Cup Tournament and International Festival.

The Office of International Student Life is located in DUC E228. You can contact the office by e-mailing oisl@emory.edu or by calling 727.1078. Visit our website at http://oisl.emory.edu.
The mission of the Office of LGBT Life is to engage the University community in the creation of an affirming and just campus environment while supporting the development of students of all gender and sexual identities. Here are just a few ways you can get involved in the LGBTQ communities at Emory:

- Student Groups: Emory Pride, Queer & Asian, and other graduate and professional student groups.
- Community Building Events: Open House in September, Annual Pride Awards, Atlanta Pride Festival and Parade.
- Office Offerings: Free lending library with books and DVDs, social/student space with computers and internet access.
- Financial Support: GALA Leadership Award, J. Michael Aycock Student Leadership Development, Dr. Daniel D. Adame Leadership Development Fund.
- Programs: Discussion groups including Queer People of Color, Bisexual/Pansexual, Queer Men, and Transforming Gender; Safe Space Trainings; and Queer Connections, which provides opportunities to connect with queer Emory faculty, alumni, and staff.

The office is located in DUC E232. You can contact us by calling 727.0272 or e-mailing lgbt@emory.edu. Visit our website at http://lgbt.emory.edu.
The Office of Multicultural Programs and Services (affectionately called “OMPS”) provides programs to promote diversity, cultural humility, student retention, and the successful transition and support of historically underrepresented student populations at Emory. Signature programs include the Crossroads Retreats, Multicultural Outreach and Resources at Emory (MORE) peer mentoring program for first-year students, and Issues Troupe, which performs theatrical diversity vignettes at various events on campus.

Other programs include the joint Leadership, Service, and Diversity Awards program with the Office of Student Leadership and Service that includes the Delores P. Aldridge Commitment to Diversity Awards (recognizing diversity and community building leadership of students, faculty, staff); Modupe Dayo, an African themed commencement ceremony in May co-hosted with the Black Student Alliance (BSA) and the Caucus of Emory Black Alumni (CEBA), and the annual Unity Celebration in November focusing on culture, diversity, and community.

Newer initiatives include Building Leaders and Cultivating Knowledge (BLACK), a joint initiative with the Office of Undergraduate Education that addresses the decline in black male attendance and retention in college; Intersections, an upperclass student retreat focusing on intersecting identities; Words Matter, a collaboration with the other departments in the Division of Campus Life that investigates how to build rather than divide the community with language; and programs for Latin@ and other underrepresented students. Services include multicultural student organization advising, advocacy for targeted groups and individual students, and facilitation of cultural humility workshops.

OMPS strives for an inclusive, equitable, culturally competent, and humble community so students will excel and contribute to our multicultural society.

The office is located in DUC E207. You can contact the office by calling 727.6754. Visit our website at http://emory.edu/MULTICULTURAL.
Health Promotion

At the Office of Health Promotion, we are devoted to engaging students in the work of creating a healthier campus, building individual capacity for health, and advocating for students in times of crisis. We do this in a variety of ways, from the individual level all the way to changing campus culture. Specifically, the Office of Health Promotion contributes to Emory students' success in and out of the classroom by providing: population-level health promotion resources; healthy skill-building consultations; group education interventions to promote health and reduce risk; a Healthy Campus Initiative to foster collective action; mentoring for future public health professionals; and training programs for campus leaders to enhance the community of care at Emory.

Everything we do at the Office of Health Promotion to promote your wellness is related to our mission. Since health, learning, and social justice are inextricably linked, health transcends individual factors and includes cultural, institutional, socioeconomic, and political influences. Therefore, our mission is to facilitate student flourishing and build capacity for a healthy Emory. Our mission is adapted from the American College Health Association (ACHA) Standards of Practice for Health Promotion in Higher Education (2005).

The Office of Health Promotion is located at 1525 Clifton Road. Call the office at 727.7551. Learn how to get involved on our website at http://studenthealth.emory.edu/hp/.

Student Conduct

The Office of Student Conduct is dedicated to establishing, promoting, and sustaining high standards of conduct. Our office enforces the Undergraduate Code of Conduct, which sets out the university’s expectations for undergraduate students and student organizations, and explains how alleged violations of those expectations are resolved. Students are expected to follow the expectations of conduct outlined in the Code, which can be found online at http://conduct.emory.edu.

The student conduct process is educational and is not intended to be punitive. It is our goal to help students understand the impact of their actions and decisions and to become more conscientious and thoughtful decision-makers. When students violate our expectations we provide an opportunity to explore the impact of their actions on themselves and their community, and provide ways to promote success for all parties.

Staff members in the office coordinate the conduct process and provide consultation and outreach to the university community on issues of conduct, conflict resolution, compliance, and integrity. We also assist students and alumni who need information from their disciplinary record sent to third parties such as graduate and professional schools.

The Office is located at DUC E505. Contact the office by calling 727.7190. For more information, visit our website at http://conduct.emory.edu.
CENTER FOR COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

The Center for Community Partnerships (CFCP) is Emory's central resource for coordinating, aligning, and enhancing much of the university's engagement and outreach. CFCP is primarily responsible for promoting civic engagement through scholarship, learning, and service. Working closely with our partners at Emory and in the community, CFCP helps other Emory organizations coordinate their related programs-and develops and implements a range of its own initiatives.

The Center for Community Partnerships is located in DUC E340. You can contact the center by calling 727.6169 or e-mailing cfcp@emory.edu. Visit us online at http://cfcp.emory.edu.

STUDENT LEADERSHIP & SERVICE

The Office of Student Leadership & Service (OSLS) engages students in meaningful leadership development and service-learning experiences through a variety of programs and services. The OSLS provides opportunities and resources for students to get involved both at Emory and in the broader community through programs, retreats, trainings, and student organization advisement. In addition, the OSLS provides support and advocacy for over 400 student organizations on Emory's campus. No matter your interests, we can help you find your niche on campus!

Some of our programs and services include:

Leadership Emory: Leadership Emory unites the Emory Community in emphasizing common elements of leadership that focus on the link between leadership, ethics, and civic engagement.

The Emerging Leader Experience: The Emerging Leaders Experience (E.L.E.) is a semester-long program designed for a student to develop leadership skills, widen social networks, build a shared community, and realize his/her full potential.

The LeaderShape Institute®: LeaderShape is a highly-regarded, intensive, and energizing six-day program open to students interested in producing extraordinary results while also developing an understanding and commitment to lead with integrity ®.

Executive Round Table: ERT recognizes the truly outstanding leaders on Emory’s campus by providing them a unique opportunity to interact with each other and prominent leaders in the community.

Orientation: New Student Orientation, which includes freshman orientation, Oxford Continuee Orientation, transfer student orientation, and parent orientation, is coordinated by OSLS in conjunction with Emory College of Arts and Sciences.
Leadership Emory Summits: The OSLS hosts day-long leadership workshops that focus on skill development for the Five Core Tenets of Leadership at Emory (http://lead.emory.edu).

STEER Team: The Student Training, Education, and Engagement Resources Team (STEER) is a peer leadership program that serves our 400+ student organizations. The team will do group trainings, customized workshops for your student organization, coach you through starting a student organization, provide advice on event planning, or help you apply for funding for an event.

Advisor of the Day: Visit us during our daily “Advisor of the Day” office hours and meet with an OSLS staff member for any advice you need to be more successful.

VOLUNTEER EMORY

Volunteer Emory is a signature program of the Office of Student Leadership & Service. The purpose of Volunteer Emory is to collaborate with students, faculty, staff, alumni, and community organizations for service projects and social justice work that promote learning about self and society while positively impacting the greater Atlanta community. Volunteer Emory staff members organize between 25 and 30 weekly service trips to local schools, nonprofit agencies, and parks. Volunteer Emory also plans local and regional alternative break trips during both fall and spring semesters. Past trip locations included: Savannah, GA, Birmingham, AL, New Orleans, LA, Mobile, AL, Memphis, TN, Brunswick, GA, and Joplin, MO. In addition, Volunteer Emory partners with campus and community organizations to coordinate large-scale service days on and off campus, including the 9/11 Day of Service, Emory Cares International Day of Service, and Emory's Day On (Martin Luther King, Jr. Day).

The office of Student Leadership and Service (OSLS) is located in DUC E340. You can contact the office by calling 727.6169. For more information, visit our website at http://osls.emory.edu.
SORORITY AND FRATERNITY LIFE

The Office of Sorority and Fraternity Life strives to create a vibrant community that values brother/sisterhood, scholarship, leadership, community engagement, and positive social interactions. We foster a holistic collegiate experience by advising with a purpose, supporting with a developmental approach, communicating with stakeholders, and developing meaningful collaborative partnerships.

Recruitment and intake for first-year students occurs at the beginning of the second semester. More than 30 percent of undergraduates participate in sorority and fraternity life at Emory. Members engage in community service, leadership, social development, and academic enrichment activities.

The Office of Sorority and Fraternity Life is located in DUC E228. Contact the office by calling 727.4142 or e-mailing osfl@emory.edu. For more information, visit http://osfl.emory.edu.

Residence Life & Housing

The Office of Residence Life & Housing is proud to support students while they live at Emory. We are responsible for the administration of all residential facilities. We strive to provide facilities that are clean, well-maintained, comfortable, and conducive to study. Our residence halls are staffed with highly-trained staff who live on each floor and work diligently to build community and support students in all aspects of their college lives. We believe learning that occurs outside of the classroom can often be as valuable as learning that takes place in an academic setting. Experiences outside the classroom include developing close relationships with diverse individuals, enhancing leadership skills, assuming personal responsibility, enriching spiritual skills, building character and discipline, and forming a better understanding and genuine acceptance of the many races, cultures, religions, and nationalities that comprise the Emory community and beyond.

FIRST YEAR AT EMORY

First-year students are encouraged to actively participate in FYE programming to help them connect with their class and Emory during their first year on campus. FYE staff present programming to facilitate the transition to college. Within FYE, we have six themed communities: Citizenship: Your Passport to Emory; Living Green: Sustainability in the 21st Century; Global Cultures: Bringing the World to Emory; Leadership at Emory; Creativity & Innovation; and Social Entrepreneurship. Programs within the themed LLCs connect students’ first-year residential experience to the associated theme. For more information, visit: www.emory.edu/HOUSING/LLC.
SECOND YEAR AT EMORY

All second-year students register for SYE prior to submitting their housing applications. The registration process allows SYE staff to better provide intentional, targeted programming for their residents. These programs help students achieve their second-year milestones, such as declaring a major or making connections with faculty members outside the classroom. For more information, visit: www.emory.edu/HOUSING/SYE.

JUNIOR YEAR AT EMORY

Junior Year at Emory supports third-year students in the transition into their majors, adjustment to apartment living, and reflection upon study abroad and internship experiences. We encourage students to utilize the resources available to them in developing interview skills, participating in activities that support their academic/vocational plans, and developing (or maintaining) behaviors that promote good health.

SENIOR YEAR AT EMORY

Seniors living with us prepare for a natural transition from college to life after graduation in the Senior Year at Emory program. Our office assists students in identifying wellness activities to continue after graduation and collaborates with the Emory Alumni Association in supporting students’ professional and social post-graduation lives.

The Office is located at 2 Eagle Row (Raoul Hall). You can contact the office by calling 404.727.7631 or e-
The University sponsors a broad-based intercollegiate athletic program with approximately 400 student-athletes comprising the school's 18 varsity sports. Emory competes at the NCAA Division III level and is a member of the University Athletic Association (UAA). Other institutions comprising the eight team league include Brandeis University, Carnegie Mellon University, Case Western Reserve University, New York University, University of Chicago, University of Rochester, and Washington University.

With main offices located in the George W. Woodruff Physical Education Center, the Department of Athletics & Recreation also seeks to create an environment that allows students to engage in their campus community through our Play Emory program. With approximately 20 recreational and competitive Intramural Sports, more than 30 Club Sports teams, over 15 different types of Fitness Emory classes, and a variety of for-credit Play 4 Life courses, Play Emory offers a place for students to relieve stress, learn teamwork, and gain leadership skills all while impacting their overall health and wellness.

Athletics and Recreation is located in the George W. Woodruff Physical Education Center (WoodPEC). You can contact the office by calling 727.5196. During your downtime, come play @ the DUC!

Fondly called “The DUC,” the R. Howard Dobbs University Center can be described as the hub of student life at Emory. The main lobby, known as the Coca-Cola Commons, is wireless accessible and home to Dunkin Donuts, Emory Alliance Credit Union, the Information and Ticket Desk, the TV Lounge, and an Art Gallery. The DUC is also home to Emory Mail Services, Document Services, Residential Dining, the Emory Black Student Union, the Mary Gray Monroe Theatre, Harland Cinema, Meeting Services, meeting rooms, and a ballroom.

The DUC hosts several signature programs, including the Harland Cinema Movie Series, DUCtoberfest, DUC Day, and many student organization events. The Information and Ticket Desk offers students discounted tickets to Atlanta attractions, MARTA, and rotating local deals. The DUC has many services for students, including faxing, notary public, and voter registration.

The DUC is located at 605 Asbury Circle. You can contact the DUC by calling 727.INFO. For more information, visit http://duc.emory.edu.
FOOD SERVICE ADMINISTRATION

The Food Service Administration office is responsible for all aspects of food service at Emory. This includes the administration of the University meal plans. This office can assist you with everything from how meal plans work to the various Emory Dining locations on campus. We can answer questions regarding nutrition and meeting special dietary needs as well as the sustainability initiatives within Emory Dining. If it involves food at Emory, Food Service Administration can assist you.

EMORY DINING

Emory Dining provides countless ways to satisfy the community’s appetite on campus. Emory dining has two anchor locations: Dobbs Market, a traditional all-you-care-to-eat venue that provides a wide variety of fresh, healthy options, including kosher, gluten-free, and vegetarian stations; and Cox Hall Food Court, an a la carte dining experience with more than 10 different vendor options.

Emory Dining also has 12 additional locations. Wherever students decide to eat, they will discover that Emory Dining focuses on fresh, authentic ingredients, as well as local and seasonal products at the peak of flavor.

The Food Service Administration Office is located in Cox Hall, Suite 313. You can reach our office by calling 727.4015. Visit Emory Dining online at http://emory.edu/DINING.
Counseling & Psychological Services (CAPS)

Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) provides free, confidential short-term counseling for all enrolled undergraduate, graduate, and professional students and can assist with referrals into the community for longer-term therapy when needed. Students can receive counseling assistance for a variety of concerns, including but not limited to relationship difficulties, depression, and personal growth. In addition to individual, group, and couples counseling, CAPS operates a Stress Management and Biofeedback Clinic to train students in strategies for reducing stress, anxiety, and managing sleep difficulties. Additionally, students, faculty, and staff may contact CAPS staff for consultation about how to assist students in need, including how to make referrals to CAPS.

CAPS also offers several forms of outreach services: First, CAPS offers workshops about specific topics (e.g., body image, stress reduction, relationships) and general information sessions about CAPS services to student groups and classes upon request. Second, students, faculty, and staff may become involved in outreach via Emory Cares 4 U, CAPS innovative suicide prevention program. Finally, students can become more involved in mental health and outreach efforts by participating in Active Minds or the HelpLine, the two student groups supervised by CAPS professional staff:

- Active Minds, a nationally recognized student group dedicated to reducing stigma around mental health on college campuses.
- HelpLine, a confidential highly trained student group that provides an after-hours telephone hotline for Emory students. Students who work on HelpLine must complete a rigorous selection and training process.

CAPS is located at 1462 Clifton Road Building, Suite 235. You can contact our office by calling 727.7450. For more information, visit our website at http://studenthealth.emory.edu/cs.

ARTS AT EMORY

The Arts at Emory brings students together with world-renowned artists, offering students the opportunity to discover and explore art with outstanding programs in art history, creative writing, dance, film and media, music, and theater. Visit us at arts.emory.edu to learn more about all of our programs and events.

Art on the Cheap

The Arts Passport Program gives Emory students free entrance to most ticketed arts events on campus. Incoming first-year students are given the Arts Passport free of charge. All other University students can purchase an Arts Passport from the Arts at Emory Box. Visit creativity.emory.edu for more information.

Dance

The Dance Program is home to the Emory Dance Company, a student-based performance group that presents new work by dance faculty, guest artists, and Emory dance students. Auditions are held at the beginning of each semester. Emory is also host to over 20 student dance groups in a range of styles, including modern, breakdancing, step teams, and cultural dance groups. For more information, visit dance.emory.edu.

Music

The Music Department hosts a number of groups open to all Emory students including chamber ensembles, Concert Choir, jazz ensembles, Emory University Symphony Orchestra, Emory Wind Ensemble, and University Chorus. Auditions are held at the beginning of each academic year. Also look for Emory’s many prestigious student-led a cappella groups. Visit music.emory.edu for more information.

Theater

Theater Emory is a professional theater company-in-residence at Emory University. Dedicated to exploring bold new work, Theater Emory casts Emory students alongside professional actors and directors. Auditions are held in September and December. Student theater groups at Emory include groups dedicated to musical theater, non-musical performances, and comedy improvisation. For more information, visit theater.emory.edu.

ETHICS AND SERVANT LEADERSHIP PROGRAM (EASL)

The D. Abbott Turner Ethics and Servant Leadership (EASL) program strives to cultivate servant leaders at Emory. It accomplishes that goal through delivering programs focusing on ethics and leadership studies, theory-practice learning, community-based research, and volunteerism. Through these programs EASL works to encourage, assist, and support Emory’s citizen-scholars in developing the power to serve and lead for the common good whether in human and social services, business, politics, religion, law or health and medicine.

The Ethics and Servant Leader Summer Internship Program promotes civic engagement by connecting high-performing students with local community organizations. This exclusive eight-week internship requires students to work a minimum of 240 hours of service and includes four hours of classroom instruction per week. Students develop ethical leadership and values-based management skills and learn about different approaches to decision-making processes that shape nonprofit organizations, governmental agencies, and businesses.

The academic year component of the EASL program is the EASL Forum. The Forum is a weekly, interdisciplinary forum focused on service, community building, and leadership development. The Forum brings together 15 undergraduate and graduate students, selected through an application process, in a year-long collaborative learning experience that includes retreats, skill-building sessions, outside speakers, and student-developed projects.

For more information visit: www.ethics.emory.edu/pillars/citizenship/EASL/index.html/ Contact: Dr. Edward Queen, Director of the EASL Program: equeen@emory.edu
