And so we end 2012 the way we began, celebrating all that’s good about the EUEC. This photo journal reflects our journey and the friends we made along the way. It is also a reflection of our creativity, consciousness, outreach, accomplishment, and some of the fun that we have.
From Presidential honors and Veterans’ honors, to service in-field and to the Emory community, this year EUEC members made their presence felt around the world. There are 543 members of the EUEC, including 26 new retirees. Members serve stateside as well as in Kenya, India, and other parts of the world.
EUEC members are best examples of the many ways to have a creative later life. As mentors, they share experience and knowledge. As exemplars, they inspire others to serve and to give, and to enjoy the very best that life has to offer at any age. Senior Mentors, MedShare, and tutoring are a few of the many ways in which EUEC members share, serve, and give.
In addition to donating to Emory University, Emory University Hospital, and financially supporting the works of the Emeritus College, EUEC members continue to publish, lecture, teach, and present works in the Atlanta community, other parts of the U.S., and abroad.
EUEC Members featured in this year’s Senior Mentors Promo are: Ron Johnson, Chuck Nicolaysen, Ted and Cynthia Runyon, and Morton and Aviva Waitzman. There are 22 EUEC Senior Mentors.

This year’s Living History participants are: Eugene Bianchi, Robert Dehaan, Louis “Skip” Elsas, and Morton Waitzman.

EUEC Retirement Seminar panelists are: Herb Benario, John Bugge, Marianne Scharbo-Dehaan, and Ron Frank.

EUEC Member, Sidney Perkowitz was featured on Atlanta’s 11 Alive.
