“Colored Pictures: Race and Visual Representation”

Thursday, October 29th at 5:30 pm
Center for Ethics, Room 102

Professor Michael Harris will present from his book, Colored Pictures: Race and Visual Representation. A discussion on portrayals of race in this country will follow the presentation.

Please join us for this lively and informative discussion.

Please call 404-727-6754 for more information

Sponsored by OMPS, BSA, Center for Ethics, and Office of Community and Diversity

Michael D. Harris is an Associate Professor of Art History in the Department of African American Studies at Emory University. He received his B.S. from Bowling Green State University, an M.F.A. in painting from Howard University, an M.A. in African American Studies from Yale University, and two M.A.s and a Ph.D. in Art History from Yale University. His recent book, Colored Pictures: Race and Visual Representation, was awarded the 2004 Outstanding Contribution to Publishing Citation, Black Caucus of the American Library Association, 2004. Triennial Book Award, Honorable Mention, Arts Council of the African Studies Association.